PREFACE

Valencia! The sun-soaked city that gave the world paella. And, after Madrid and Barcelona, it is Spain's third-largest city and Europe's fifth container port. Valencia is also a popular tourist destination dating back over two millennia, still featuring many impressive material traces. The number of historical monuments is overwhelming. Even without a congress, the city is well worth visiting. Combining utility with enjoyment is of course still better.

This historic city has been selected by the International Institute of Social History as the venue for the eleventh edition of its European Social Science History Conference. The person responsible for selecting such venues is Mrs Els Hiemstra, who manages the congress service at the Amsterdam Institute. Taking this duty very seriously, Mrs Hiemstra ordinarily compares several candidates, scrutinizing multiple aspects likely to be decisive for the success of the congress. Buildings, available services, location and the presence of affordable hotels all factor into the decision. A congress comprising dozens of parallel sessions and around 1800 participants is very demanding. The selection often follows several site visits. This time Mrs Hiemstra has chosen the medical faculty at the University of València. Given her keen judgment and organizational skills, the International Institute of Social History is confident that hundreds of historians and scholars in related fields will once again have an excellent week.

The Amsterdam Institute is thriving. Since 2014 the research department has operated under the aegis of Leo Lucassen, who has succeeded Marcel van der Linden. The successful Global Labour History programme continues with new zeal and more researchers, together with several partners abroad, who are also involved in gathering data. The IISH is now one of the world's largest data centres for social and economic history. Several important paper collections (including the Marx-Engels archive) have been digitized in recent years and attract many virtual visitors, which has not kept physical visits to the reading room from reaching a record high in 2015. Social-economic history seems to be pivotal once again. Delighted at and proud of these developments, I wish you all an inspiring and fruitful eleventh European Social Science History Conference.

Amsterdam, February 2016

Henk Wals
General Director, International Institute of Social History

THE ESSHC

CHARACTER OF THE ESSHC

The European Social Science History Conference aims at bringing together scholars interested in explaining historical phenomena using the methods of the social sciences. The ESSHC takes place bi-annually: in 1996 in Noordwijkerhout, in 1998 and 2000 in Amsterdam, in 2002 in The Hague and in 2004 the conference crossed the border and took place in Berlin. In 2006 we returned to Amsterdam, in 2008 the conference took place in Lisbon, in 2010 in Ghent, in 2012 in Glasgow and the 10th edition of 2014 was held in Vienna.

The conference is characterized by a lively exchange in many small groups, rather than by formal plenary sessions. The Conference welcomes papers and sessions on any topic and any historical period.

SPONSORED BY IISH

The European Social Science History Conference is sponsored by the International Institute of Social History (IISH), an institute of the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences.

As work and labour relations deeply influence how we live, the mission of the International Institute of Social History (IISH) is to explore how these relations develop globally over time. In order to be able to conduct this historical research and support other researchers, we collect archives and data from all over the world. Established in 1935, the IISH is one of the world's most renowned research institutes on social history.

Information on the IISH is available on our website: socialhistory.org

At the IISH Els Hiemstra is responsible for the ESSHC. The conference secretariat is in the hands of Yvonne Bax and Ineke Kellij. Astrid Verburg organizes the book exhibit. Database and web interface design by Gordan Cupac and Kerim Meijer. Ana Lopez Sundh is our liaison in Valencia.

ADVISORY BOARD

The ESSHC is organised by the International Institute of Social History. To advise the organisers on ESSHC policy an Advisory Board has been formed. It will act as a body that represents the long term interests of the conference and the participants that make it. Participants who want to voice suggestions can approach the organisers through the registration desk, or members of the Advisory Board if they prefer to do so.

ADVISORY BOARD MEMBERS:

Lex Heerma van Voss, Huygens ING
Karin Hofmeester, IISH and University of Antwerp
Lynn Hollen Lees, University of Pennsylvania
Rene Levy, CESDIP
Marianna Muravyeva, Oxford Brooks University
Ana Maria Rodrigues, University of Lisbon
Marlou Schrover, Leiden University
Marco van Leeuwen, Utrecht University

The Board has drawn up a rotation roster so that every two years two members shall come up for replacement or re-election. The network chairs will be asked to (re)-elect two new members.

PROFESSOR JAN LUCASSEN AWARD

The ESSHC has established The Professor Jan Lucassen Award, a prize for the best paper at the ESSHC by a PhD student.

The paper should be written by a PhD student, in English, and has to be accepted in the ESSHC program. The paper should be based on original research, innovative and should explicitly strive to explain historical phenomena using the methods of the social sciences. Papers with an international comparative approach are preferred. The maximum length of the paper should be no more than 8000 words.

Jury
